

The Trained Crisis Responder course is designed as a one-on-one, peer driven intervention. It enables our Emergency service personnel (ES officers, GT leaders, members, etc) to recognize the characteristics of stress, understand the elements of an integrated multi-component CISM intervention system, and learn to apply the basic principles of crisis management. All of this is done within the scope of their normal job function. See it as another “tool” on their belt or in their response gear.

This ANG/ICISF course will provide a foundation, toward the CISM requirement in our CAP regulations. This course is certified by the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation and Univ.of Maryland/Baltimore County and you will receive 1.4 CEU's (continuing education credits)".
